Current position:

IT Solutions Manager / iCU Coach

When I joined Equilibria:

June 1st 2007

Why I co-founded Equilibria:

While working for my previous employer I was given the opportunity to provide outsourced IT services to Equilibria. During that time the concept of iCU was born. Shortly thereafter I was working with programmers to build a prototype. Early into this project I realized this information technology could help keep people safe. This very much appealed to my Yellow / Blue nature so when Equilibria offered me a job I eagerly accepted to the opportunity.

My professional background:

I have been working with computer systems since 1988. My initial job involved operating smaller versions of mainframe computers for the Government of Canada (GOC). By 1989 personal computers became the standard office tool so I moved over to this side of the operation. After several years of supporting PCs/laptops, the new technology called "Local Area Networks" (LANs) were introduced along with servers and other related networking solutions. I gladly accepted the opportunity to install and support the new infrastructure and then began working with programmers as a liaison with their clients.

By the time I left the GOC 13 years later I was a Regional IT Manager responsible for 15 System Engineers working in 4 different locations with 400 machines interconnected to the private/public network.

In October 2000 I moved to Bangkok to provide IT services to Horizon Mobile Communications. This meant supporting standard business systems as well as mobile satellite communications hardware/software. HMC went on to provide Equilibria with outsourced IT services. In 2007 I left HMC to work directly with Equilibria.

My educational background:

St. Thomas University, 1982-1986
Microsoft Certified System Engineer, 1996

My family and general interests/hobbies:

In summary, I was born in Miami, raised in Canada and now live in Thailand. I have a very close relationship with my loving mother and brothers. My other passions are alpine skiing, helping people, staying in touch with old friends and making new ones.
